

Hints & Tips

- Your wedding invitations and stationery are a reflection of your personal style and your wedding style and will be the first impression your guests have of your wedding day.
- Using the different items of wedding stationery available is an easy way of co-ordinating and continuing a theme or colour throughout your wedding day.
- Personalised stationery will save you time and the tediousness of writing your names, venue address and times over and over again and it looks more elegant too, but if you'd like to write your own names, that's fine too.
- Maybe you have an idea what theme or colours you'd like for your wedding and you want stationery to match. Or maybe you're looking for ideas and inspiration. Wedding Stationery is an ideal place to start either way with a variety of styles, themes and colours. If you are not sure what design and colour theme you would like then keep things simple, let us help with ideas and inspiration.
- Although the conventional way to announce your engagement is through a newspaper, what about a more personal announcement? We can make a personal announcement card for you to send to your friends and family with a design and colour theme to suit.
- Some clients like to order extra items of stationery as keepsakes of the wedding day or to put inside their wedding album.
- Invitations, Order of Service Cards, Place cards and Menu Cards are all popular mementos for guests to keep of your wedding day.
- The delivery estimates you have been quoted will depend on your prompt approval of proofs and payment. Don't want to be late for the big day!
- Escort cards are fairly recent in the UK and are an alternative to a table plan. They are cards addressed to each guest telling them where they will be seated for the reception/wedding breakfast and are usually placed on a table near the entrance of the venue. They are ideal if your location is short of space for a large table plan.